Fearless in Action

5 Solo Openers for Any Scene

Solo Openers: Start Small, Win Big

Start simple—eye contact, a smile, and one of these lines. These work anywhere, whether you're at a campus, mall, restaurant, or on the street.

- Campus: "Hey, you look familiar. What's your name?"

Why It Works: Simple and non-threatening—perfect for a campus vibe.

- Mall: "You're standing out in this crowd, I just had to come say Hi."

Why It Works: Bold but playful, cuts through the noise.

- Restaurant: "You're making this place look good—are you as cool as you look? Prove it."

Why It Works: Flirty and direct, fits the intimate vibe.

- Public Space (Park/Event): "Saw you over here, had to stop. You're gorgeous, do you look like this everyday?"

Why It Works: Cocky and fun.

- Street: "You look like the main character out here. What's your story?"

Why It Works: Creative and engaging.

5 Group Openers for Any Scene

Group Openers: Own the Crowd, Claim the Girl

Groups can be intimidating, but not for a king. Engage the whole crew first—make 'em smile, as Chomp would say.

- Campus: "Y'all look like you run this campus, but who's the queen of the crew?"

Why It Works: Confident and funny.

- Mall: "Your friend is very cute, please tell me she's not crazy."

Why It Works: Playful and inclusive.

- Restaurant: "Sorry I'm late, what did I miss?"

Why It Works: Funny, casual, and non-creepy.

- Street: "Sorry to bother you, I just wasn't gonna let you guys walk past without letting your friend know how cute she is."

Why It Works: Bold and commanding.
